16 THINGS YOU DIDN'T KNOW ABOUT THE NFL

1

During a regular NFL game, you are likely to watch the following:

2

Football was never made out of pig skin

Pigskin refers to the crude soccer ball or “football” made from a pig bladder. NFL footballs come from cowhide. It takes 3,000 cows to supply the leather for a year’s supply of footballs for the NFL

3

An NFL forfeit results in a 2-0 score

Why two-points? The two-point safety is the only score not accredited to any one player, so no player receives the statistic

4

No TV broadcast tapes exist from Super Bowl I

The game was simulcast between NBC and CBS, but both networks taped over their film of the game (rumor has it that both films were used for soap operas)

5

The smallest player in NFL history was the size of Carrie Underwood

Jack “Soapy” Shapiro played Blocking Back for the Staten Island Stapletons in 1929 standing at 5’1” and weighing in at 119 pounds

6

The yellow line costs $20K per football broadcast. 16 games x 32 teams ÷ 2 teams per game = $5,120,000 (or the salary of 4.5 punters) worth of yellow line a year during the regular season

7

The Dallas Cowboys are the most valuable sports franchise in the world with a reported value of $5 billion.

8

Oakland originally named their team the Oakland Señors

The Oakland Señors was the result of a Bay Area contest to name the new NFL team. After endless scrutiny from the media, the name only lasted a month and changed to the Raiders (which finished 3rd in voting)

9

The Madden Curse

Since 2000, every player to appear on the cover of the Madden NFL video game has suffered a season altering gaff or injury (with the exception of Larry Fitzgerald)

10

Ronnie Lott cut off his finger

After the 1985 season, Lott had his left pinky amputated after it was crushed during a tackle on running back Timmy Newsome

11

On the November 23rd, 1970, edition of Monday Night Football, Howard Cosell was so drunk, he slurred his speech throughout the first half and vomited on Don Meredith's boots at half-time

12

80% of all Super Bowl tickets go to corporate sponsors

13

Pizza delivery drivers are in more accidents on Super Bowl Sunday than any other day of the year

9 million slices delivered - 44% more than a normal Sunday

14

Over 33% of replay reviews are overturned

15

An estimated 90 million people flush the toilet during the Super Bowl half time

If the average toilet uses two gallons of water per flush, that's 180 million gallons of water flowing at once - or 3½ minutes of flowing water on the Niagara Falls

16

Mr. Irrelevant gets a week

The final pick in the draft, aka Mr. Irrelevant, and his family receive invitations to visit the annual "Irrelevant Week" in Newport Beach, CA. He also gets to keep this neat trophy:

SUPER BOWL SNACK FACTS

How much food will Americans eat this Super Bowl Sunday?

AVOCADOS

69 MILLION POUNDS

That's heavier than 222,580 offensive linemen piled on top of each other
(average weight of 310 pounds)

CHIPS

14,500 TONS
(29 MILLION POUNDS)

That's enough to fill
39 Boeing 747 airplanes
to maximum capacity
(max capacity 735,000 pounds)

CHICKEN WINGS

1.23 BILLION WINGS

That's literally enough to give everyone in the United States
(pop. 320,207,319 million)
about three wings apiece

POPCORN

120 MILLION POUNDS

That amount could fill about 13,571,428 large buckets
of popcorn at AMC theaters

PIZZA

4 MILLION PIZZAS

If each pizza is half an inch thick and the Leaning Tower of Pisa is about 183 feet, 4 million pizzas on top of each other would be as tall as about 910 Leaning Towers of Pisa
stacked on top of each other end to end

BEER

325.5 MILLION GALLONS

Every second about
750,000 gallons of water flow
over Niagara Falls. This amount of beer could flow for slightly longer than 7.2 minutes

NUTS

2.5 MILLION POUNDS

If all those were peanuts – which make up about two-thirds of all snack nuts consumed in the U.S. – you could make

1.8 million jars of peanut butter

(at 12 oz. per jar)
