Press Release - Local Financial Advisor Attends Advisor Group's Connect ED 2016 National conference.

Plymouth Meeting, PA – September 16, 2016 – John M. Sklencar, President and Founder of Physicians Private Client Group, recently attended Advisor Group's 2016 Connect ED conference. The annual event was hosted at The Gaylord National Resort and Convention Center in Washington, D.C. September 8-11. Nearly 3,000 attendees, including financial advisors from FSC Securities Corporation, Royal Alliance Associates, Inc., Sage Point Financial, Inc. and Woodbury Financial Services, Inc., Advisor Group's four firms, were present at the event.

Connect ED is one of Advisor Group's most successful education events for all advisors in the firm's expansive network. This year the firm worked to provide advisors with fresh insights and new tools necessary to providing premier advice to their clients. Advisor Group was notably pleased with the networking and conversations that went on between advisors during the educational sessions.

Connect ED 2016's keynote speakers included Gen. Colin Powell, former United States Secretary of State, former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, retired Four-Star General, author and humanitarian; Brit Hume, journalist, senior political analyst and White House correspondent; Karl Rove, Republican political strategist, former Deputy Chief of Staff, author, Fox News contributor and Wall Street Journal columnist; Donna Brazile, Interim Chairperson of the Democratic National Committee, CNN analyst and ABC News contributor; and Dr. Marci Rossell, economist and past Chief Economist for CNBC. The conference also featured more than 120 educational sessions on a range of topics reflecting the most current industry trends, best practices, products and policies.

"Connect ED 2016 was an outstanding event," said Mr. Sklencar. "The insights that were provided by this year's keynote speakers were fascinating and the overall experience was unparalleled. Advisor Group ensured that attendees were provided with compelling and relevant breakout sessions along with invaluable networking opportunities among advisors and peers from across the network. I am pleased to say that I learned excellent tips and am walking away with tools and resources that can directly benefit my business and most importantly my clients."
